THE SECOND DAY.

Proceedings of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK.

Committees Appointed and Business Rushed Along—Dr. Roberts is Made Vice Moderator—First of the Important Questions Taken Up—Details of the Day's Work.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Devotional exercises with which was opened the second day's session of the Presbyterian general assembly were conducted by Rev. Dr. Smith of Baltimore.

Rev. Mr. McCauley of Dayton, O., moved a consideration of the vote of Thursday on the world's fair Sunday opening, for the purpose of offering a substitute for that resolution. Going more into detail the assembly refused to adopt it or to consider it.

Rev. Dr. Bartlett then presented to Moderator Craig the gavel prepared for this assembly, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gurley, the former the son of Rev. P. D. Gurley, first pastor of the church in which the assembly meets. It is composed largely of cherry from Mount Vernon, with pieces of the United States frigate Constitution, the capstone of the Washington monument, and of the pew in the New York Avenue church occupied by the late President Lincoln. The name of Lincoln was greeted with applause. Dr. Craig responded in a few well chosen words of thanks to the donors and paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of Rev. Phineas D. Gurley.

Dr. Harsha of Nebraska moved the appointment of a committee to formulate an expression of opinion upon the Chinese exclusion act, as it affects the foreign missionary work. With one vote in the negative, the motion was adopted.

Stated Clerk Roberts announced that the reports of the various boards, committees and officers of the church and assembly had been received with a few exceptions, and would be duly presented.

Dr. Smith of Baltimore introduced to the moderator and through him to the assembly, Rev. Dr. Duncan of the Episcopal church, who represented the joint committee which had under consideration the subject of church unity.

He said that there were four points which the Episcopal church believed to be a basis of union, and upon three of them they had practically agreed. Dr. Duncan prophesied practical and harmonious unity of the churches, and that in the not very far distant future, instead of two church organizations, there shall be but one.

At this point the moderator announced the standing committees.

The following are chairmen of the several committees: Bills and overtures, William C. Young; judiciary, George D. Baker; politics, W. W. Harsha; home missions, Loyal L. Graham; foreign missions, Herick Johnson; education, Thomas D. Ewing; publication and school work, James H. Brookes; church erection, Calvin W. Stewart; theological seminaries, John Dixon; ministerial relief, David Gregg; freedmen, George L. Spinning; aid for colleges, Charles A. Dickey; correspondence, M. L. P. Hill; benevolence, George H. Fullerton; narration, S. M. Davis; temperance, James Matthews; leave of absence, John Reed, Jr.; mileage, Franklin L. Shepard; finance, William A. Herron.

The special committee on the Chinese exclusion act was announced to consist of S. M. Catchings of Detroit; M. H. Stratton, Salem, N. J.; and Cyrus H. Pershing, Pottsville, Pa.

Rev. William Henry Roberts was announced to be vice moderator.

After some routine business of not much interest had been disposed of, Moderator Young projected into the proceedings the first of the important questions before the assembly, the report of the committee upon the relation of the assembly to the theological seminaries.

It covered the history and methods pursued by the committee in the progress of its work and as well as the history of the relations of the assembly and of theological seminaries, beginning with the organization of the institution at Princeton, which acknowledged the general assembly as its patron and source of power and authority.

The report, in its appendix, furnishes full information respecting the plan of organization and methods of management of the various institutions allied to the church.

Dr. Young surrendered the floor to Elder Thomas McDougall of Cincinnati who largely drafted the report, which was the unanimous expression of the committee.

Mr. McDougall said that he believed the time had come, in the matter of the control of the seminaries, when the genius of the Presbyterian church should be at least equal to the executive ability displayed in ordinary business and that if any teacher employed for a specific purpose at a specific salary should, for any reason, become unfit to discharge his duties, a way might be found to dispense with his services without splitting up the church.

When Mr. McDougall had finished Mr. Roberts moved that the report be approved and that the committee be continued.

Finally, after a passage between Dr. Young and Professor Young, a vote of thanks was extended to the committee for its diligence, and it was continued for further labor. The assembly then took a recess till 2:30.

Professor Brown opened the proceedings after recess with prayer. A resolution was adopted, inviting President

Cleveland to visit the assembly at his convenience.

Rev. Charles A. Dickey, chairman of the special committee on judicial commissions, reported in favor of sending an overture down to the presbyteries for a change on Chapter 13, Section 118, so as to provide that the general assembly, each synod and each presbytery shall have power to appoint judicial commissions from their respective bodies, to which all judicial cases are to be submitted, their decisions to be subject to reversal only by the superior judicatory except in matters of law. The assembly adopted this report.

Rev. Dr. Smith, chairman of the committee on church unity, reported four meetings of the committee held in the past year the result which had been deemed best to drop for the present a discussion of the differences between the two churches and leaving to the future the work of securing the organic external union desired.

The correspondence between the committee and episcopal commission in the past year was read. It showed that the Episcopalians offered to make such changes in the methods of selecting members of the episcopate as might be deemed essential, if only thereby the union of American Christians could be secured; and further that the authority of the presbytery was recognized in the Episcopal church.

The series of women's meetings, in connection with the general assembly, began with that of the women's executive committee of home missions which assembled in the Church of the Covenant. Mrs. F. H. Pierson, corresponding secretary, read the preliminary report of the work of the past year; Mrs. A. C. Miller read the school report; Mrs. C. E. Coulter, the report of the freedmen's department, and Miss S. F. Lincoln the treasurer's report, showing receipts of $373,141.

Cumberland Presbyterian Assembly.

LITTLE ROCK, May 20.—The Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly was an intensely interesting body. Very early it became evident that there was to be a struggle upon the question of woman's eligibility for the office of ruling elder. Immediately after the minutes were read, the stated clerk read overtures from 15 presbyteries touching the question, all of which went to the committee on overtures.

Later a special committee on the credentials of Mrs. Claget, the first woman commissioner ever sent to the assembly, reported four to one in favor of seating her. Pending the discussion of the minority report, opposing the seating of the woman, the question was postponed.

Many memorials were read, among them invitations from Chicago and Bowling Green, Ky., for the next meeting of the assembly.

The many colleges of the church reported growth.

Rev. W. L. Williams of Iowa and Layman M. H. Sharp of Texas were consecrated with solemn ceremony as missionaries to Mexico.

The attendance is the largest and intellectually the ablest in the history of the church.

Reformed Presbyterians.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church continued its session. The attendance was small and the morning was chiefly occupied by hearing an address by Dr. Knowles, secretary of the American Sabbath union, protesting against the opening of the world's fair on Sundays. Delegates were present from Ohio, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Illinois, Wisconsin, Colorado and Indiana.

A resolution was passed providing that all treasurers holding funds of synods must give adequate bonds.

At the evening session a general conference was held on the subject of foreign missions.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

A North Carolinian Made Third Assistant Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The president has appointed Kerr Craig of North Carolina to be third assistant postmaster general, vice A. D. Hazen of Pennsylvania, resigned.

The president has made the following other appointments:

John G. Brown of Idaho to be register of the land office at Blackfoot, Ida.

George B. Young of New Mexico to be register of the land office at Roswell, N. M.

John W. Jones of Idaho to be receiver of public moneys at Blackfoot, Idaho.

William H. Cosgrove of New Mexico to be receiver of public moneys at Roswell, N. M.

Crookedness Discovered.

PITTSBURG, May 20.—The members of the poor board of Allegheny county have been investigating the secret methods of the law and order society through their attorney, James F. Rot, and are amazed at the work that has been going on. They claim that some one has possession of many hundreds of dollars that belong to the county and they propose to get it. Several more arrests will likely be made at once as the result of what they have learned by examining the court records and a cursory glance at the books of Alderman Rohe. Just who is to be arrested or on what charges those interested will not state.

Immigration Statistics.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that during the 10 months ended April 30, 453,955 immigrants arrived at the ports of the United States. Of this number 96,676 came from Germany, 69,519 from Russia (except Poland), 48,823 from Italy, 38,031 from Sweden and Norway, 40,092 from England and Wales and 84,055 from Ireland. The number arrived during the corresponding period of the preceding year was 834,325.

INFANTA EULALIE.

Arrival of Spain's Royal Representative.

LANDED ON AMERICAN SOIL.

The Princess Honored With Much Ceremony Both in New York and Washington as the Nation's Guest—She Is Well Pleased With Her Reception.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The Spanish-American steamship Maria Christina, with the Infanta Eulalie aboard, arrived down the bay at night too late to pass quarantine. The vessel was not expected until morning, and the reception which it was intended to give to the infanta upon her arrival had to be postponed.

The commander of the Dolphin expected to take her aboard of his vessel, tender her a reception and escort her to Jersey City, where she was scheduled to board a train for Washington. This was prevented by rough weather. The water was so rough that the infanta declined to board the Dolphin down in the bay, and it was arranged that the ship should rendezvous in the North river near Jersey City, where the transfer could be more safely made. This plan was accordingly followed. The Infanta Isabel, with the infanta on board, anchored opposite the Pennsylvania railroad docks at noon. The Dolphin came up 15 minutes later. The infanta was transferred from the Isabel to the Dolphin in the captain's gig.

At 2:45 o'clock the infanta and party were transferred to the government tug Narheeta and landed. Carriages were in waiting and the party were driven to the elevator and carried up into the depot. The elevator was handsomely carpeted for the occasion, and carpets were laid from the elevator along the platform to the train.

The train left at 3 o'clock. As it pulled out of the depot the princess stood on the rear platform and waved her handkerchief, and her husband, hat in hand, also stood on the platform and bowed to the crowd.

ARRIVAL IN WASHINGTON.

The Nation's Guest Honored With Much Ceremony at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The royal train bearing Spain's representative to the world's fair arrived in Washington at 8:40 o'clock at night. An immense crowd was at the station. The attaches of the Spanish legation were there as early as 7 o'clock, which also included Mrs. Curry, the wife of the ex-minister of the United States to Spain.

Five minutes later there was a stir among the rapidly gathering throng, as four troops of United States cavalry rode up and formed in line on the Sixth street side of the station.

Secretary Gresham and Assistant Secretary Quincy came shortly after the arrival of the cavalcade in Mr. Gresham's carriage, followed almost immediately by a handsome baronche, drawn by four magnificent bay horses. It was President Cleveland's carriage, and the president's coachman, with a brand new footman, were on the box.

Other officials began to arrive. Colonel John M. Wilson of the army, the commissioner of public buildings and grounds, wore full dress uniform in his capacity as the military representative of the president. Assistant Secretary Ade and Chief Clerk Rockhill of the state department, were also in attendance.

The princess stepped from the train assisted by Commander Davis. When the train stopped Secretary Gresham pressed forward and Commander Davis presented him to the infanta as the representative of the president. The princess and secretary greeted each other, then other members of the receiving party gathered about them. When the infanta saw Mrs. Curry, there was a pretty scene. The two had known each other intimately in Madrid and the recognition was followed by a warm handshake, while Mrs. Curry imprinted a kiss on each cheek of the princess.

The greeting over, Secretary Gresham offered his arm to the princess, and preceded by Colonel Wilson and Mr. Parke, general southern passenger agent of the Pennsylvania road, and followed by the infanta and suite and the official gathering, walked down the carpeted platform to the carriage entrance of the station. Outside the crowd was enormous, and the princess looked pleased as she saw the throng that had gathered to receive her. She chatted gaily in English with Mr. Gresham all the while.

The infanta, Secretary Gresham, Minister Muruga and Prince Antoine entered the president's carriage, the cavaliers saluted, and the procession began to move up Pennsylvania avenue toward the Arlington. Four buglers on horseback led, and with the four troops of cavalry, one of which was composed of colored soldiers from the "Fighting Ninth," formed the escort for the royal party. Six sergeants of cavalry acted as bodyguard to the princess.

The scenes in and around the Pennsylvania railway station when the princess arrived, reminded one of those that were enacted during the inauguration. A crowd, the like of which has not been seen since that time, lined Pennsylvania avenue, on either side from the Sixth street station to the treasury department and to the Arlington hotel.

The princess was seated on the right of Secretary Gresham, facing Prince Antoine, and the Spanish minister, and seemed particularly pleased at the demonstrations of cordiality manifested on the route up the avenue, but kept up a continued conversation with the premier of the administration.

The apartments occupied by the princess are the historic Sumner annex to the hotel, very near the White House.

A large bunch of sweet peas stood on a table in the parlor, from Mrs. Curry; other floral gifts were around, but the chief among them rested upon the table in the princess' private drawing room on the second floor. It was a tribute from Mrs. Cleveland, and consisted of a large basket of magnificent American beauties, orchids and lilies of the valley.

It was 8:45 when the head of the column of troops, turned off Pennsylvania avenue and came up to the hotel. The cavalry moved quickly up the broad avenue, wheeled into line, coming to a dress parade. Immediately behind came the president's four-in-hand, from which the princess alighted upon the arm of secretary Gresham and followed by her husband, the prince and the Spanish minister, entered the Sumner annex.

The streets were thronged, and a loud cheer went up as the princess stepped to the pavement. "Hats off," shouted some one in the crowd, and instantly every head was uncovered. It was with great difficulty that the police kept the people from surging forward.

Col. Wilson received the party at the door. Immediately upon entering the house the princess passed into the reception room, accompanied by Secretary Gresham and Assistant Secretaries Ade and Quincy and her suite. A moment later and the representatives of the government retired and Commander Davis bade the party good night.

All preparations had been made to serve dinner, but owing to the fact that dinner was had on the train, the beautiful private diningroom was not used, and the princess soon retired to her rooms to secure a good night's rest, preparatory to the festivities that await her.

CONDITION OF BUSINESS.

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, May 20.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Stock rally from extreme depression, but business shows no substantial improvement. The distribution of products to final consumers is rather less encouraging, though the weather has been generally more favorable, and at some points help trade.

Wholesale business and production show each week more hesitation with regard to the crops next fall, the possibilities of tariff changes and money uncertainties. Some large failures and many of minor importance show the effects of increasing stringency in money markets, and while money is comparatively easy here, the pressure at other points has increased. Almost everywhere collections are slow, and doubt about the future affects new undertakings, although the present volume of trade based upon past orders is remarkably large. The treasury is in a stronger position than for some weeks past, but exports of gold have notably increased.

Trade at Boston is but moderate, and in some grades of cotton is decidedly lower, while woollens and clothing are dull. Boots and shoes are more active and larger orders are seen for rubbers, goods, while lumber is in strong demand.

At Philadelphia hardware is active and trade in groceries fair.

Baltimore reports trade in woollens backward, and in boots and shoes slow with dragging collections.

Iron is weaker at Pittsburgh. Coal and glass fair.

At Cincinnati collections are slow and money in demand.

Trade at Cleveland is generally dull. The monetary situation improves at Indianapolis, banks being in good condition, but at Detroit jobbing is 5 to 10 per cent smaller than last year, though manufacturers are at work full time, and money easier.

Chicago reports improved retail and satisfactory wholesale trade, with liquidation and lower prices for local securities, and slow collections. Trade in real estate is smaller by 40 per cent and receipts of nearly all products show a decrease from 18 to 60 per cent compared with last year. Though flour, wheat and oats increased, Eastbound rail shipments are larger, but wheat is at the lowest price for 30 years.

Milwaukee trade improves, but money is tight.

At St. Louis trade very satisfactory.

At Kansas city trade is fair in dry goods, shoes and groceries, slow in farm implements, with money closer.

At St. Joseph trade is improving with fair collections, but at Denver business is slow.

At Louisville the money market improves, though collections are slow; at Little Rock money is tight, trade dull.

Knoxville trade sluggish, collections backward. At Memphis trade is quiet, and at Nashville somewhat better with increased confidence, though money is close.

New Orleans reports quiet trade with much apprehension of floods, cotton depressed, sugar weaker, and money in increasing demand.

The failures for the week number 247 in the United States against 160 for the same week last year, and 14 in Canada against 23 last year.

Man's Head Cut Off.

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—John McIntosh, 26, of Oil City, fell from a freight train on the Panhandle road as it arrived from Indianapolis, and his head was cut off. He had papers showing him to be a member in good standing of the A. O. W.

Receive For the Whisky Trust.

CHICAGO, May 20.—In whisky circles the air is full of wild rumors concerning the trust. One that seemed to be most prominent is that the conference at the Grand Pacific is about to throw the trust into the hands of a receiver.

WORLD'S FAIR NEWS.

SUNDAY OPENING QUESTION.

It Has Finally Been Decided That the Doors Will Be Opened on Sunday for the First Time on May 28—Work of the Women's Congress—Theodore Thomas Has Not Yet Resigned.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Sunday opening of the world's fair has been postponed for a week. The local directors held a meeting yesterday evening, at which it decided to close the fair next Sunday in order to give the national commission sufficient time to take action on the new Sunday opening rule, which was submitted to that body during the day.

LUNCH TIME.

While the local directors are anxious to have the sanction of the national commission in opening the exposition the first day of the week, it was apparent from their expressions at the evening session that until the courts interfere the great show will be open May 28, regardless of any action the national commissioners may take. The great public, which has been clamoring so loudly for Sunday opening, is becoming impatient at the delay, and it is not improbable that some difficulty will be experienced in keeping the people out of the grounds next Sunday.

Work of the Women.

There was the usual crush at the doors of the art palace and many of the halls were so overcrowded even in advance of the commencement of the proceedings that it was found necessary to close the doors.

The convention at the Hall of Washington was given up to a consideration of women in the trades and professions. Mrs. M. Louise Thomas presided.

Universal peace between nations occupied the attention of the assemblage in the Hall of Columbus. Minnie D. Lewis presided.

Religious matters in general were discussed at the convention in Hall No. 6.

Rev. Ida C. Hultin of Moline presided over and delivered the address of welcome and the opening of the combined congress of the National Alliance of Unitarians and other liberal Christian women, the Women's Western Unitarian conference, and the Women's Unitarian conference of the Pacific coast. Mrs. B. Ward Dix of Brooklyn responded to the address of welcome and addresses relating to Unitarian church work were made by Mrs. E. B. Eastman of San Francisco, Emily Eifield of Boston and several others.

In the congress of the non-partisan National Women's Christian Temperance union the principal addresses were delivered by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, Mrs. Florence E. Porter of Maine, and Mrs. Davidson of Ohio.

The department of the National Woman's Relief society was presided over by Mme. Zina D. H. Young. Half a dozen papers were presented on subjects varying from the pioneer women of Utah to amusements of early days.

Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson, wife of Vice President Stevenson, presided over the congress of the Daughters of the American revolution. Papers on a number of patriotic subjects were presented.

The international council of women held an executive session which occupied the entire morning. In the afternoon representative women from Denmark, France and Greece were introduced and delivered greetings from their respective countries.

Helen E. Starrett presided over the convention of the late Columbian Household Economic association, and which was one of the most interesting of the many gatherings of the day. Some delegates told of their troubles with domestic servants, others told of their good fortune in securing and retaining competent help. A score or more of ideas regarding operative housekeeping were then ventilated, and Mrs. Ewing gave practical illustration of breadmaking as a fine art.

Theodore Thomas Not Yet Resigned.

Theodore Thomas has not yet sent in his resignation as musical director of the world's fair, and it is believed that he will not send it in until the board of reference and control has passed on the matter and tried to straighten out the disagreement between the national commission and the board of local directors. The majority of the members of the national commission want Thomas to go, while the local board says he shall stay. The 16 members of the board of reference will attempt to decide between the two bodies.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Fair, warmer weather; south winds.

If Representative Halbert of Lewis County knows of any bribery or corruption in the Legislature, the proper place for him to prefer the charges is not at Vanceburg but at Frankfort, in the General Assembly. The people want the facts and Mr. Halbert will be given an opportunity to present them. He has been summoned before the House to particularize and tell what he knows.

ANOTHER Kentucky Republican postmaster has been made to "walk the plank." This time J. K. Hampton, of Winchester, is the individual. "Conny" Lisle, ex-editor of the Winchester Democrat and one of the best men in Clark County, was given the appointment by President Cleveland Thursday. Mr. Lisle is a brother of Congressman Lisle. The principal ground for Hampton's removal was his activity in organizing the G. O. P. in that section and his making a number of red-hot campaign speeches. There's not much comfort in this for those Republicans who are still holding on.

"The New Jury Law.

The new Jury law has passed both Houses at Frankfort. An exchange claims it is superior to the old one in every way, and the manner of impaneling a jury in felony cases is to be commended. The jury for a felony case must be drawn at random from a long list of names selected at the last term of court and placed in a wheel or drum. From this drum the regular jury is drawn, and when the regular panel is exhausted other names must be drawn from the names still left. It will be impossible for a criminal, his lawyers or friends to have anything to do in the selection of the jury further than their right of peremptory challenges, and these have been reduced from twenty to fifteen. In misdemeanor cases, a jury can be selected from bystanders only by the agreement of both sides.

A Good Place for Suckers.

A smooth-tonguedascal who wore a full suit of cream-colored flannel, with a high silk hat of the same color, struck Mt. Olivet last court day. He was introducing a patent electric pad that was a regular cure-all, and when he finished his little speech the people were electrified and almost fell over each other to secure some of his goods. Money was no object with him, so he said, and he would return their cash. Many of them were not satisfied with one but gobbled up half a dozen or so. He finally got the price up to a dollar a pad, and the Advance says he took in fully a peck of the shining wheels, and then drove off. The people he gulled are still waiting for him to return their money. This is an old swindle, but this was probably the first time it was ever worked with an electric pad.

Former Maysvillian Honored.

Dr. Marsh, formerly of this city, was elected President of the Kentucky Homeopathic Medical Society for ensuing year at the session in Danville this week. His friends will be gratified to learn of the honor he has received. The other officers are: Dr. Julia Washburn, Lexington, Vice President; Dr. Allison Clokey, Louisville, Secretary; Dr. J. T. Bryan, Shelbyville, Treasurer.

The Danville correspondent of the Courier-Journal in speaking of this week's meeting says: "All parts of the State and many neighboring States were represented by their homeopathic physicians. The society has grown steadily since its organization, and to-day ranks among the first State societies of the country."

"The society will meet next year at Lexington the third Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in May. The society will publish its minutes in book form this year for the first time, and a volume of some two hundred pages will be formed. Hereafter stenographic reports of the meeting will be taken, and the discussion of papers given verbatim.

If you want to spend an evening of genuine pleasure and enjoyment go to the opera house this evening and witness the performance of "A Woman's Devotion." Several specialties will be added to the regular programme, among them being two refined gymnastic acts by the "Fremonts," two local athletes. Prices reduced to 10 and 20 cents. A special price of 10 cents will be made to school children. Seats on sale at Nelson's. Doors open at 7:30.

PENSION SHARKS.

Uncle Sam Swindled Out of a Big Sum of Money by Parties at Norfolk, Virginia.

The new administration has unearthed a big pension swindle at Norfolk, Va. The amount of money wrongfully obtained from Uncle Sam is not definitely known yet but it is estimated at $100,000.

W. R. Drewry, a former pension attorney, is the shrewd individual who worked the scheme. The frauds were discovered several days ago, and the U. S. grand jury at Norfolk has been investigating the charges this week, and as a result of the first day's work found eleven true bills of indictment against Drewry and six against A. B. Richardson, Jr., an ex-Notary Public, who was charged with falsely attesting the applications for pensions in that he certified that the papers were signed by the applicants in his presence when the fact is that Richardson was in Florida when the applications were made.

Drewry's methods were novel. It was shown that he obtained pensions which the applicants have never received, that he had forged the names of witnesses to papers, and that in one case he had deliberately used a substitute to pass the medical examination required. In Norfolk County there lives two colored men of the same name; both served in the same regiment during the war. One of these men, who is said to be quite robust, applied for a pension, and when the time came to be examined the other, an invalid, was carried before the physician for examination. The latter answered all questions truthfully as to the name, regiment and residence, and the pension was granted. It did not, however, go to the man who was examined, but to the other of the same name. Great ingenuity was displayed by Drewry in the several methods used to obtain pensions for his clients.

The developments in this case will strengthen the new administration in its determination to reform the pension system. Judge Lochren, the new Commissioner, has announced that he intends placing Democrats only on the new Pension Examining Boards, instead of two Democrats and one Republican as heretofore. He thinks there is no better way of beginning the reform than by putting all Democrats on these boards.

Dainty Little Mabel Paige.

This charming little soubrette star and her excellent company will open their week's engagement at the opera house next Monday evening in the brightest comedy ever written, "Little Lord Fauntleroy." The play will be interspersed with the latest songs, dances and refined specialties. There will be a change of programme nightly, and popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents—will prevail. The following is from the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser:

It has been some time since there has been an attraction at the Opera House that gave such general satisfaction as the Fauntleroy of Little Mabel Paige. At the matinee the house was packed and last night another good house went away delighted with the child actress. The support was very good indeed.

Free Turnpikes.

The Court of Claims of Fayette County has made preparations to receive the turnpikes in that county and make them free whenever the companies owning them shall turn them over. But there are no signs on the part of the companies to turn them over, says the "In-and-About-the-State" editor of the Courier-Journal. Yet turnpikes do not seem to be a very profitable investment in Fayette County, according to reports made to the court by some of its members.

One road which cost $24,000, of which the State paid $12,000, Fayette County and Lexington $5,000 each and individuals $2,000, pays no dividends and is in bad repair. The stock is quoted at $6 per share.

Fayette County has 226 miles of turnpikes with toll-gates, besides forty-four miles with gates. The total receipts for the past year at the toll-gates amounted to $37,075, and the total expenses were $14,328, of which $7,500 went for repairs at the rate of $33.50 a mile.

FOR THE FARMER.

Henry County farmers have formed a dog-killing association, and Hart County farmers have been called to meet for a similar purpose, in order to protect the sheep.

Says the Winchester Democrat: "There never were such preparations being made in Kentucky for any crop as are being for tobacco. Blue Grass pastures that never felt the scarifying influence of the plow share, are being broken up, front lawns and corner lots are sharing the same fate, and the noxious tobacco worms will have a feast of fat things they never had before. We hear of men buying or renting land at high figures and assuming heavy indebtedness in the mad race to get rich by raising tobacco, and it reminds of the insanity that seized upon the country a few years ago in regard to boom towns and lot speculations which brought financial disaster to so many worthy people."

River News.

Rising steadily at this point.

The Kanawha packet Stanley was three hours handling her freight at Manchester on her down trip this week.

Says the Ashland News: "The Bay Bros. are preparing to institute a fight against the White Collar Line boat, Sherley, that will in all probability eventually run her out of the Cincinnati and Charleston trade. The Stanley will be placed in the Cincinnati and Huntington trade, and the new Ruth, now finishing at Marietta, will be put in the run from Charleston to Huntington. By this arrangement they will be able to make two round trips weekly and regular connections at Huntington. What steps the Sherley will take to get around this new combination is not yet given out, but it is likely they will not be far behind in the movement.

Mass Meeting to-morrow.

A union mass meeting will be held in the Baptist Church to-morrow at 3 p. m., in the interest of the American Christian Sabbath, led by the Rev. S. A. George, of Pennsylvania, Secretary American Sabbath Union. The public invited.

The World's Columbian Exposition

Will be of value to the world by illustrating the improvements in the mechanical arts, and eminent physicians will tell you that the progress in medicinal agents has been of equal importance, and as a strengthening laxative that Syrup of Figs is far in advance of all others.

KNOWS ALL ABOUT IT NOW.

A New-Comer From Cincinnati Initiated Into the Mysteries of "Snipe Hunting."

A salesman fresh from the Queen City was initiated into the mysteries of "snipe hunting" last night, and he will remember his experience a long time.

He arrived in Maysville several weeks ago, having accepted a position at a prominent clothing house, and he was disposed to be "hale fellow, well met" among the acquaintances he formed.

It is claimed, however, that he was given to referring to many of the young men about town as "hill-billies," "country jakes," &c., and this no doubt prompted some of them to give him a lesson that he would not soon forget.

They invited him to take a snipe hunt with them. He knew all about snipe hunting, he said. Lots of fun in it, and they would go out and have a fine time.

Last evening was the date decided on. The weather was fine. The party finally got started. It was composed of Messrs. Dudley Martin, D. Fitzgerald, Henry Bertram, Frank Purnell, Joseph O'Donnell, Buddy Durst, Throop Browning and half a dozen others, including the new salesman, of course. They were provided with the necessary sacks, candles, etc.

Having reached a point about six miles out on the Hill City pike, the party entered a meadow, and soon had the salesman holding the sack, with candle burning, and waiting patiently for the snipe.

How long he waited is not known. At 2 o'clock this morning, while the rest of the party were snoozing away in bed at their homes, the salesman was at Mr. John Coughlin's on the Fleming pike trying to find his way to Maysville. At 3 o'clock, he was at Mr. Charles Reed's home out on the hill still inquiring the way to Maysville. It is said he reached town about 4 o'clock.

He is no doubt fully posted now in the mysteries of snipe hunting, and is fully convinced that Maysville is not a "jay town."

ALL members of the M. E. Church, South, are urged to be present to-morrow morning at Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock.

"A WOMAN'S DEVOTION" has caught the public. Many of our citizens not believing in home talent would not go, but their friends attending so highly recommended it that those who did not attend have requested a repetition of the play. Mrs. HENRY DRYDEN, of Chester, who had been ill for some time of consumption, died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of her father, Mr. Patrick O'Neal, of Mayslick, where she was taken several weeks ago in hopes that her health would be improved by the change. She was thirty years of age and leaves three small children. The funeral will take place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at residence of her father. Burial at Washington.

WEST UNION, O., is to have a railroad at last. The question of changing the gauge of the Cincinnati, Georgetown and Portsmouth has lately been decided upon, and work will be started at once. In addition to changing the gauge the Directors have authorized the extension of the line from its present terminus at Georgetown to the stone quarries beyond West Union in Adams County. This work will also be undertaken at once, surveys made, and the most eligible route selected. Ultimately the road will be extended to Portsmouth.

The Central Hotel is receiving a thorough overhauling throughout and the new proprietors are leaving nothing undone to make it one of the best and most attractive hostleries in the State. The painters and paper-hangers have been at work for some time, and new carpets have been put down. Messrs. Long & Fitzgerald contemplate putting in a water motor to make their own electric light, but this has not been definitely decided on as yet. Messrs. John Broese and Hiram Daugherty, the clever and accommodating clerks, will retain their places under the new management.

JAMES E. MURDOCH DEAD.

The Veteran Actor, Patriot and Citizen Dies in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, May 20.—James E. Murdoch is dead at the age of 83. For 14 years he had been failing in health and finally succumbed to various ailments combined with old age.

For some time past he has been making his home with his daughters, Misses Fannie and Ida, on the Reading road, Walnut Hills. To the last Mr. Murdoch's mind was perfectly clear. Mr. Murdoch's last appearance in public was at the Pike Opera House, about a year ago, when he recited "Sheridan's Ride." Mr. Murdoch began his stage career over 50 years ago, in England. After attaining the greatest prominence in the dramatic profession, he retired about 25 years ago, and took up his residence near Foster's Crossing.

He made a life study of the great Shakespearean creations, and played "Othello" and other dramas of the Bard of Avon.

Mr. Murdoch came to Cincinnati in 1846, and, with old John Bates, played a line of Shakespearean roles. Occasionally he played comedy as a relief, but he was in no sense a comedian.

His last appearance on the stage was at the great dramatic festival in Music Hall about 15 years ago, with Booth, Barrett and other great actors of the day.

Mr. Murdoch was not only one of the greatest actors of his time, he was also an author, a patriot and a most worthy citizen.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Complete Manhood and how to attain it.

At last a medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. This is scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful, medical book that has appeared for years; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in this. Some of the subjects treated are Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development, Varicocele, The Husband, Those intending Marriage, etc. Every man who would know the grand truths, the plain facts, the old secrets, and the new discoveries of medical science as applied to married life, who would alone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this wonderful little book. It will be sent free, under seal. Address the publishers, Erie Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
